

ALBRIGHT PLEASED WITH AGREEMENT

Satisfied to Meet Joe Turner Under Conditions Named. Posts $100 Forfeit.

Hornell, N. J., March 6. Gus Malbert, Sporting Editor of the Times-Dispatch:

Sir,—Your articles of agreement for the Turner match for the 17th of March received. I am more than pleased that Mr. Turner has consented to give me a match. Enclosed you will find $100 for appearance and forfeit money. I will say that the wrestling fans of Richmond will witness a match such as has seldom been equalled in Richmond. I realize that I am against a good man in Turner, but, however, I will say that Mr. Turner will have to travel a much faster pace than he has in some time to ward off defeat, as he will find a different Albright on the night of the 17th than he did the last time we met.

I will be in Richmond a week or so before the bout to complete training, so as to give the wrestling fans a line on my condition.

Yours,
CON ALBRIGHT.

STUDENTS OUTWIT COST OF LIVING

Lexington, Va., March 7.—Washington and Lee's athletes have discovered a new way to get the better of the High Cost of Living. Good board here is quoted at about 10 per cent, but students who are taken ill can be housed at the hospital indefinitely for $2.00 per week, but per annum.

The nuptials have been floating around Lexington, and they first got to Cambridge, Va., the hospital and stay there for some time. He was later joined by Jim Somerville, the darts thrower, "Big" Carson, the pitcher, and several other athletes. Richard W. Fowler, assistant manager of the basketball team, getting pneumonia in order to qualify for admittance to the infirmary.

EQUITABLE SCHEDULE HAS MANY WEAKNESSES

least two cities of the circuit must find it impossible to continue—Roanoke and Portsmouth. If Petersburg has a winning club, Petersburg can survive, but with a loser even Petersburg must fail. As for Richmond—the music may well be heard now as later—the Virginia League will not get the support here this season that it has in the past. There has always been more or less apathy to Class C baseball for Richmond, and now that the week-end games have been taken away, fans will lose interest entirely.

Real Test to Come. The other cities of the circuit say that they are in the game for glory, that they do not desire to make money. The real test will come in 1914. They will have an opportunity to show just how much money they will stand to lose. Richmond can't lose. There are enough people here who have nothing else to do, and who will go to the park to give the owners here an even break. If the men backing the clubs are willing to stand the losses, the league can survive, but only under such conditions. It is an impossible schedule for a Class C league, with a Class C salary limit, and with some of the clubs exceeding even that limit.

If it were possible to make each club a winner, then the question of schedule would not enter into the discussion.

"Rastus, make it two!"

"An' make it wid dat Cream o' Kaintuck. Dat wot de Kunnel say!"

After all, they haven't succeeded in improving on the old-fashioned whiskey cocktail. Many weird concoctions are called cocktails. But a lump of ice, a bit of sugar, a piece of lemon peel, and a jigger of leave nothing to be desired, unless you think a dash of bitters will add to the delectable harmony.

Of course, if you insist, we'll let you use whiskey and a little Italian Vermouth and call it a "Manhattan," but Cream of Kentucky is too good to insult by much mixing. "THEE" Whiskey has all the flavor anybody needs—you don't have to add anything to make it delicious. The sugar of the grain is in it, and the flavor and bouquet are age-ripened, natural qualities. It is made in the old-fashioned, honest way, and mellowed by long, warm, sleepy years in the wood before bottling.

New York, March 7.—Men prominent in every line of sport and from all parts of the country gathered to-night to attend the banquet given here in honor of the world-touring baseball players who arrived here yesterday.

Baseball magnates, officials and players naturally predominated, but all branches of amateur and professional sport were represented among the two persons attending.

With former Judge Edward E. McCall acting as toastmaster, Lieutenant-Governor Robert Wagner extended a greeting to the returning players.

President E. J. Johnson, of the American League, followed with an address on "Girdling the Globe by Organized Baseball."

Manager John J. McGraw delivered an oration entitled "The Giants." He was followed by President John C. Tiltgh, of the National League, who took an hour to subject "Baseball as a Profession." August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Club and chairman of the national commission, talked on "Baseball as a National Institution." It was near midnight before the banquet ended. Another banquet will be tendered them in Chicago Tuesday.

CLUSTER SPRINGS BEGINS PRACTICE

Cluster Springs, Va., March 7.—Outdoor baseball practice began last week at Cluster Springs Academy. Wet grounds and bad weather handicapped the work to some extent, but did not interfere with the spirit and enthusiasm of the candidates.

Two days of work on the field brought to light the most promising bunch of players ever seen at the old academy. Heald, Chapman, Old, Van, Glenn, Cooper and Whaley are six of last year's nine who form a strong working nucleus. Fifteen or twenty new men reported and went into the work with a vim that delighted the coaches. Among these are several husky fellows who know the game, and will win places on the team.
